

CIWEM Rivers & Coastal Group
Study Weekend 2010

Flood Risk Management techniques and their practical applications

University of East Anglia
Norwich
19th to 21st March 2010

The weekend will aim to look at a range of tools and techniques used for assessing and managing flood risk. This will be delivered through a series of presentations, workshops and site visits. There will also be a Saturday night social event on a boat. The study weekend is aimed to offer a good practical base for those who are new to the industry, in areas such as Surface Water Management, Coastal issues, Reservoir flooding and modelling.
