

Business Reply Service
Licence No. WC 5423

Membership Department
CIWEM
15 John Street
London WC1N 2EB

V 6,605

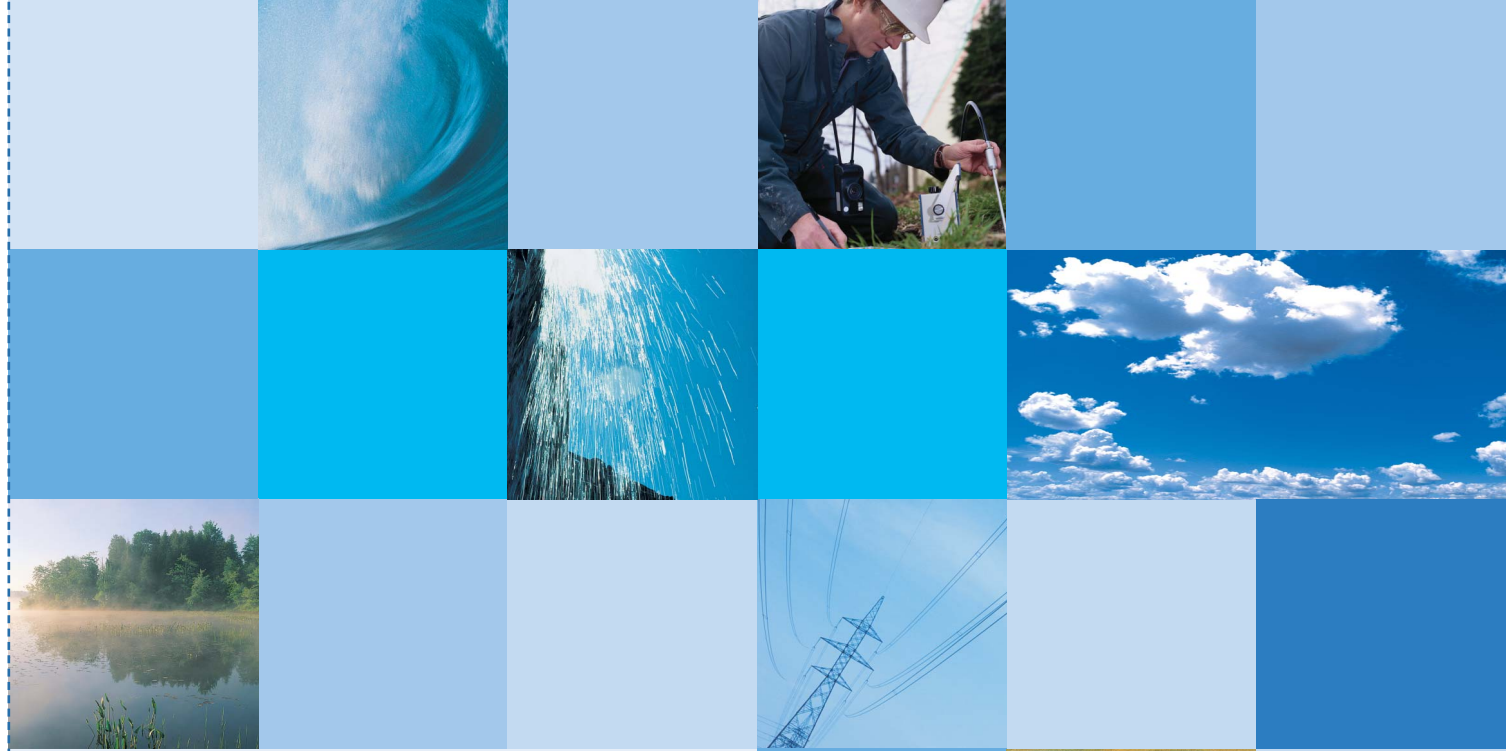

Design: Proteus Graphic Design.
Printed on FSC approved,
100% recycled post-consumer waste paper.

The Chartered Institution of Water and Environmental Management (CIWEM) is an independent charity working for the environment. Our thousands of members in 97 countries include scientists, engineers and other environmental professionals, as well as students and interested members of the public.

CIWEM sustains the excellence of the people who develop and protect our environment – now, and for future generations.

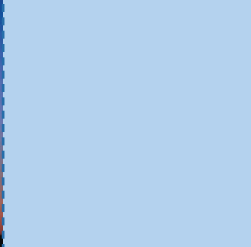

CIWEM Environmental Partnership

for the environment for the profession
for you

CIWEM, 15 John Street, London WC1N 2EB
Web: www.ciwem.org Email: membership@ciwem.org
Tel: +44 (0)20 7831 3110
Fax: +44 (0)20 7405 4967
Registered charity no. 1043409

The right thing today for future generations

CIWEM members form an international network of people who share a commitment to sustainable environmental management and development

CIWEM Environmental Partnership is for people with an interest in environmental matters who may not be practitioners, and for people in other professions who want to get more involved and support our work.

As a CIWEM Environmental Partner you will enjoy:

- a copy of WEM magazine 10 times a year
- access to CIWEM's local and national events, conferences and forums
- opportunities to enter for CIWEM's environmental competitions and awards
- a copy of CIWEM's annually updated global environment directory
- access to CIWEM's networks of environmental professionals, including your local branch
- access to career grades of membership and Chartered qualifications

You will also have the satisfaction of knowing you are supporting environmental excellence and innovation.

For more information and current rates e-mail membership@ciwem.org or see www.ciwem.org/membership

Informing, involving, inspiring

The Chartered Institution of Water and Environmental Management sustains the excellence of the people who develop and protect our environment – now, and for future generations.

The Institution does this through:

Education

CIWEM promotes education, training, study and research in order to advance environmental standards and practices.

Forming links

Our thousands of members in 97 countries have opportunities to come together regularly and share the latest developments in policy and best practice through our conferences, meetings, branches, expert groups and panels and social events.

Publishing

CIWEM's regular publications in various formats include a magazine that comes to your door ten times a year, a monthly e-bulletin and a quarterly refereed journal. We also offer a range of books and manuals, and we produce an annual environmental directory.

Policy development

CIWEM's staff and expert members work to move environmental policy forward. As our knowledge pool includes engineers, economists and ecologists, hydrogeologists and health experts in all fields and levels of environmental employment, CIWEM is well-placed to offer informed and independent advice and comment.

Providing on-line information

You can access a host of information via CIWEM's website, www.ciwem.org. This includes a register of environmental professionals, a topical discussion forum, the latest on our hundreds of events, and developments on policy in the environmental arena that CIWEM is concerned about or involved with.

For more information and current rates e-mail membership@ciwem.org or see www.ciwem.org/membership

Return this form, together with your payment, to register for CIWEM Environmental Partnership.

Title

First name(s)

Last name(s)

Gender

Nationality

Date of birth

Address

Daytime telephone

E-mail

Profession

Employer

Your area of expertise

Please send me further information on:

Business and Academic Affiliation

Professional Grades of Membership

Please make cheques payable to 'CIWEM'