

Technician Membership

1. Who can join as a CIWEM Technician member, Tech CIWEM?

A Technician Member is a non-professional grade of membership for people with practical experience in a water or environmental discipline, often gained through an apprenticeship or having completed the NEBOSH Environmental Management Course and who would like to keep up-to-date with current issues.

2. Why become a CIWEM Technician Member?

- Technician member receive invites to the local Branch events, these provide an excellent opportunity to network with key professionals working within the industry.
- Receive publications including The Environment magazine and e-newsletters.

3. How to become a CIWEM Technician Member?

The application for CIWEM Technician Membership is completed online, follow this link for the online application.

4. How much does CIWEM Technician Membership cost?

The Technician Membership is £102 per annum